

Content Management Systems

Content Management Systems (CMS)

Who needs them?

This is a question that is asked many times, the simple answer is anyone that has either none or very limited experience with HTML, scripting or web design.

Are you one of those people that dream of having your very own web portal? Posting articles? Having an event calendar and a gallery or anything else you wish with just one content management system? Is the lack of experience in technical side your only problem? No problem, we will help to sort it out for you!

Content Management Systems can be totally flexible, fast and very easy to update. While suited to all web applications, they are particularly useful for portals or community web sites where the content needs to be changed or updated on a regular basis.

Through extensive trials we mainly use Joomla for most of our CMS projects, The reason for this is simple. It is a well supported open source php script that is constantly being developed and has been since its introduction. It has an enormous number of addons to choose from, including the following:

- Galleries
- Integrated forum
- Integrated shopping cart

- Community registration systems
- Sitemap installed

- Download areas
- Templates (skins)

This list is by no means exhaustive, but is intended to give you some idea as to what can be done with your web site.

Where we come in is in the setup and layout of the site itself, sure you can do it all yourself at a lower cost and save yourself a small amount of cash by going down this route - but can you afford to take the time needed to learn the system?

Our prices include hosting, domain name registration, search engine friendly URL's together with search engine submission and full support.